It was voted that a board of directors, one from each county in the State, shall be appointed, which board is to appoint an executive committee of eight members, which committee shall be appointed from the city of San Francisco.

Also a committee of seven shall be appointed to draft a bill to be presented to the Legislature, asking for an appropriation to be raised by three annual tax levies.

A resolution was offered asking that the secretary wire the Chicago directors the greetings of the convention.

M. H. de Young moved to substitute therefore resolutions declaring that the convention protests against the double site and that the placing of the horticultural and agricultural exhibits several miles from the attractive several miles from the attractive features of exposition would be prejudicial to the interests of the State. The resolutions provided for the appointment of a committee to notify the National Commissioners and Chicago directors to that effect.

Mr. De Young spoke briefly on the resolutions, and said that, as the National Committee meets in Chicago on the 15th inst., the protest, if sent at this time, might do good.

W. H. Mills also favored the resolutions, and spoke energetically against the divided site. Isidor Jacobs thought care should be taken not to antagonize the commis-sioners at Chicago. He thought the local executive board, to be chosen, sioners at Chicago. He thought the local executive board, to be chosen, could be relied on to arrange the State display properly. Several other delegates participated in the discussion, when De Young's resolutions were put to a vote and carried, and a committee was appointed by the chair to draft the protesting telegrams.

A motion for a committee to draft a law for the State Commission, which should go to Chicago and direct affairs, was made by De Young and referred to a committee.

Mr. Mills's resolution favoring a distinct building for California's cumulative display and separate from all departments of the exhibition, was carried after some debate.

A Los Angeles delegate protested against the plan of having only one representative for each county, as provided for in the organization committee's report, and moved that each county director be empowered to appoint five others to work with him.

THE DUAL SITE. Commissioner McDonald Against Dividing the Fair. CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—[By the Associ-ated Press.] "A strong sentiment prevails among a portion at least of the National Commission that the double site is an unfortunate selection, and the matter will undoubtedly be considered next Monday." So said Hon. Mark McDonald of California, World's Fair Commissioner-at-large, when shown by the Associated Press chairman and Thomas J. Haynes temporary secretary.

A number of committees were appointed, the following being the committee on permanent organization and order of business: E. W. Jones of Los Angeles, W. H. Mills of San Francisco, B. D. Murphy of Santa Clara, J. D. Phelan of San Francisco, William Harney of San Monday of San Milliam Harney of San Diego, L. M. Holt of San Bernardino, Colin M. Boyd of San Brancisco, Milliam Harney of Merced, F. A. Kimball of San Diego, L. M. Holt of San Bernardino, Colin M. Boyd of San Francisco and M. H. De Young of San Francisco and M. H. De Young of San Francisco.

After the announcement of the committees were approceedings of the World's Fair convention today at San Francisco.

Mr. McDonald added: "The action of the convention temphasizes the feeling I found in talking, before coming here, with leading people on the Pacific coast. Since reaching Chicago, I have frequently expressed myself to that effect. The local talk here about the necessity for division of the site, else portion of the cliy may defeat the proposed issue of municipal bonds in aid of the great enterprise, is simply absurd and utterly unworthy of Chicago. The fair is worth untold millions to the city in the investments that will be made here and the money spent here in hundreds of ways by visiting multitudes. Of course the fair should be held on the lake front shore the college of the convention to day at San Francisco.

After the associated Pres iting multitudes. Of course the fair should be held on the lake front shore for the cool breeze, marine displays, and no end of other reasons, but that is no cause for cutting up the fair and putting a portion miles away from the remainder. There is any desired quantity of water front at Jackson Park, and right there is where the fair should be wholly placed."

Candidates for Director-General. CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—The principal topic at World's Fair headquarters today was the selection of a Director-General. Gen. D. H. Hastings of Pennsylvania arrived this morning Pennsylvania arrived this morning and is understood to be working for the position. A. T. Goshorn, ex-Director-General of the Centennial, can hardly be called a candidate but it is possible if the honor were tendered him unanimously that he might except. Ex-Congressman George R. Davis of Chicago is also prominently mentioned. mentioned.

SEALERS' PERILS.

Terrible Experience of Sallors Lost in a Fog. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11—|By the Associated Press.] The schooner J. H. Lewis arrived here today from Bering Sea with 1464 seal skins, making her total for the season 2594. On August 7th, when 60 miles southeast of Copper Island she picked up three boats and eleven of the crew of the Schooner C. G. White, who had lost the vessel in a G. White, who had lost the vessel in a fog and had been five days in open boats when found. While trying to find shelter and water at Copper Island three of them were shot, James Carr dying of his wounds. The boats were riddled with bullets. Carr was taken ashore at night and burled by the crew. The natives of Copper Island shot at the men because they thought they were coming there to kill seals. Four boats in all, strayed from the Four boats in all, strayed from the White. One boat with six men lander at Copper Island and the men reached here a few days ago on the steamer Karluk. One of the men brought down by the Karluk says they were deliberately left to their fate in oper poats by Capt. Hageman of the C. G.

management, etc. He said in part: management, etc. He said in part:
The alleged circular said to have been circulated among the security holders, was set up from the original manuscript in the office of the New York paper in which it appeared. I caused a most exhaustive research to be made and so far have not found a security holder to whom the circular was sent. I am sure I know who engineered the deal. They did not care particularly to depress Illinois Central securities but wanted to ease the decline in the whole list. The attempt was partially successful. The whole thing is what is called a "fake." The forthcoming annual report will show an increase in gross earnings of $1,700,000, and that the finances of the road, as a whole, are in a better condition than for years.

Cooper of Indiana Calls Flick of Iowa

the Former's Wild Charges

Assistant Secretary Bussey on

Bu Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 .- By the Associated Press.] The Raum investi-gation committee's session was enlivened today by several tilts between Cooper and Flick and Lewis and Mor-

Commissioner Raum, beginning his defence, commenced the examination of Cooper. The latter said his attention was first called to the refrigerator company by newspaper articles and afterwards by George B. Fleming. He had talked with other persons confidentially, but did not care to give their names. Fleming had said that Butler Fitch had told him that seven pension office employés bought stock .-The Commissioner said that Fleming himself was the author of the defamatory newspaper articles.

Cooper said he had given out the article himself. Cooper further said he was confirmed in his belief in the charges by the Commissioner's refusal to answer his questions. But the charges rested on Fleming's and hitch's testimony; if they were knocked out, all right.

The Commissioner remarked that he thought they had knocked themselves out.

Continuing Cooper said that Mr. Colman, representing the refrigerator stock, had spoken of the books in a way that led witness to suppose they showed creckedness.

Later on Cooper said he had never seen the books of the company, when Flick sharply queried: "You know you are on oath, don't you? You have sworn a moment ago that you could take those books and sustain the charges."

take those books and sustain the charges."

Cooper—I said I believed it. That suggestion of yours was ungentlemanly, cowardly and mean. Flick, and I submit that you are a dirty dog.

It took some time to restore order after this, but the matter was smoothed over, and Butler Fitch was calmed. He denied having told Fleming any of the things Cooper spoke of. In the course of his examination, Commissioner Raum remarked: "The whole thing is a figment of George B. Fleming, a discharged empleye of the Pension Office who has used Mr. Cooper, I don't say corruptly."

who has used Mr. Cooper, I don't say corruptly."
Assistant Secretary of the Interior Bussey testified that he had approved the completed files order. He had been much pleased with the great improvement in the Pension Office under Commissioner Raum's administration. Cooper asked if the witness had investigated the charges connecting the Commissioner and Lemon.
Witness replied: "Do you suppose

Commissioner and Lemon.

Witness replied: "Do you suppose I am going to take up everything I see in the newspapers? I don't deal in newspaper slanders." Continuing, he said Commissioner Raum had told him the circumstances fully and his explanation was satisfactory. He was satisfied that the Commissioner had not the slightest intention to favor Lemon crapspody else. Lemon or anybody else.

The Pacific Grove Conference. PACIFIC GROVE, Sept. 11 .- At the Methodist Conferedce this morning resolutions were presented asking the conference to petition Congress to furnish a greater number of chaplains and chapels for the army. Reports of the Napa, Sacramento and San Fran-cisco districts were received and showed depreciation in collections in the outlying districts. One hundred and forty twousand dollars, has been added to the value of church property in San Francisco this year. The Methodists of San Francisco have given for church purposes $24 per member, while Chicago gave $22. Philadelphia $13 and New York $19.

This afternoon the lay committee met and organized.

The Jordan Tragedy.
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.-Mrs. Catherine Jordan. whose husband yes ppeared in the press issued by some terday severed her wrist with a knife of the stockholders, criticising his and then attempted suicide on account of ill health and want, died unexpectedly at the city hospital this morning. To those around her she had repeatedly stated that Jordan would not at first listen to her appeals that he end her life with his. Jordan was distracted when told of her death and begged to be allowed to die. His conditin, however, is much improved and a charge of murder has been entered a charge of murder has been entered against him.

Depew and the Strikers. NEW YORK, Sept. 11 .- A committee of five ex-employes of the New York Central, who went out on a strike called on Depew today to talk over the matter of the strike. Depew told them they had resigned in his absence; that their places had been filled by Webb; that his action had been approved by the directors of the road and that there was nothing more to be said or done in the matter. The strikers left rather crestfallen.

SANTA MONICA.

The Balloon Ascension—A Kick on the Band—Notes and Personals. SANTA MONICA, Sept. 10.—[Corres-pondence of THE TIMES.] Prof. Ivy Baldwin gave his second balloon ascension here Admission day. The ascent was made from the railroad company's grounds opposite the depot. Long before the hour set, the crowd assembled adjacent to the spot and Meine Bros' Band played a couple of selections to while away the time until the aeronau made his flight. At 3p. m. Prof. Baldwin gave the word to let her go, when the balloon with a real estate and auctioneer's advertices. a real estate and auctioneer's advertisement painted on the outer wall gracefully ascended, Baldwin exclaiming "How do you like this for an ascension?" It was not long before he was out of sight in the banks of clouds which hung low all day over the place. The jump from the balloon could not be seen on account of the clouds, and before many moments comething was seen many moments something was seen decending at a rapid pace. Many supposed it was Baldwin, when le! the parachute was seen descending gracefully with Baldwin, who made a good landing about two miles from the starting point, the balloon landing within a few hundred yards of the same place. It was a most successful ascension and jump and the two that Prof. Baldwin has made from this place prove con-clusively that he is a master of his proclusively that he is a master of his pro-fession. After it was over the crowd assembled in the vicinity of the band stand whither the band went. But not a single note of the grand open air concert was heard in Santa Monica and there was great indignation in con-sequence. Those who have put up, their coin week in and out during the season, and for the ascension, thinking that the least they could do was to play a selection or two, were very much disappointed.

Each man was examined with regard to his acquaintance with Chadwick, Damron and Lockwood and was asked what particular newspaper he was acenstomed to read.

The list as finally completed was as follows: A. B. Clapp, Daniel Jones, J. M. Frew, Charles Wickman, P. Fitz-williams, Nathan Dinsmore, F. L. Ries, G. A. March, A. F. Bland, J. A. Russ, B. F. Ritter and Abel Sutton. As soon as the jury was secured an adjournment was taken until this adjournment was taken until this morning.

Mr. Ling had in his possession to telegram from Justice W. C. Lockwood, who is in San Francisco, containing the announcement that he would return to this city forthwith, and would get here this morning. Justice Lockwood has been absent from the city so long that there have been various rumors about the streets, which this telegram will probably quiet.

CASE OF THE MANNINGS.

CASE OF THE MANNINGS. Billy and Jack Manning, two wellknown sporting men of this city, were tried yesterday before Justice Savage in the Township Court on a charge of battery. It is alleged in the complaint that on the 2nd of September the two defendants beat a blacksmith named J. B. Claverie about the head and face with their fists and a hammer

The Mannings, who are both known, and Billy in particular, for their skill in the noble art of self-defense, defended themselves without the aid of a lawyer. Billy conducted the case, against Mr. Diehl, representing the District Attorney's office.

The chief witness for the prosecution was John W. Clark, who are a straight.

The chief witness for the prosecution was John W. Clark, who gave a straightforward account of what took place. He said that Billy came into Claverie's shop and began to talk with him about a job of work which he had on hand. The two became engaged in some kind of an altercation, and Billy struck the blacksmith. Claverie then ran inside and picked win a harmore, which he blacksmith. Claverie then ran inside and ploked up a hammer, which he pushed into Billy's face. Then Billy managed to secure the hammer and pitched into the blacksmith again. The latter went to turn loose a build og and Billy called for reinforcements and his brother Jack appeared on the scene. Jack took care of the dog, while Billy continued his punishment of Claverie. The witness several times tried to separate the combatants and came near getting his head smashed in consequence. Later in the scrimmage Jack took a hand in the belab ring of the blacksmith. The witness, however, stated that when the mill was over the countenance of the blacksmith was not bruised or disfigured.

Another witness, George H. French, who, it appeared, had seen most of the fight, was found to be afflicted with a very bad memory.

THE OTHER BOYCE. Charles H. Boyce, the nephew of the notorious "Smoothy," appeared the notorious "Smoothy," appeared before Judge Cheney yesterday in Department One for trial. He is charged with having embezzled to his own use a quantity of household stuff belonging to Alfred S. Eubanks and placed in Boyce's charge as bailee. Owing to the absence of Ada M. Eubanks, a material witness in the case, the cause was continued until 10 o'clock this morning. As the Chadwick trial is in progress in the same court, there is almost a certainty that the Boyce case will be postponed for some time longer.

A Well-Known Resident of Redlands
Drowned at Long Beach.
Yesterday morning about 11:30 o'clock Mr. Canterbury of Redlands, who has been stopping with his family at Long Beach for some days past, was drowned at that place. Mr? Canterbury was in bathing with his wife and two other ladies. The surf was running rather high; but was not considered at all dangerous, and after remaining in the shallow water for some maining in the shallow water for some minutes Mr. Canterbury remarked to his wife that he believed he would go out a little way, and enjoy a swim. He then swam out to the breaker line and the ladies returned to the shore. In about 10 minutes his wife began to make inquiries about her husband, and it was accertained that he had not come ascertained that he had not come ashore. After satisfying themselves that Canterbury was drowned the peo-ple at the beach at once commenced efforts to recover the body, but up to a

Mr. Canterbury was a son of Dr. Canterbury of Redlands, and was well known throughout that section. He leaves a wife and three children, the eldest of whom is aged about 6 years.

Last evening the following account of the drowning was received by mail:

Mr. About Canterbury of Redlands, with his wife and a young lady, went in for a swim Thursday morning at about 11 o'clock. Leaving his lady friends in shallow water, he waded out to above his waist and commenced swimming about. On returning to shore he was seen amongst the waves when a breaker seemed to roll over him and he was seen no more. Every effort was made to recover him, but ten minutes having elapsed between his being missed and the alarm being given, the chances were against success, although Alec Arkman of the bath house and R. E. Lansdown of the brakers, and the fisherman ran bath house and R. E. Lansdown of the Pavilien, both swam out beyond the breakers, and the fishermen ran out their seine, but all without success. Mrs. Canterbury states that her hus-band was feeling sick before going into the water and thought a bath would do him good.

Here she gave the name of Mrs. Larken, and said that she lived at the corner of Hope and First streets. She stated that she had been unwell for several days, and was partially out of her mind at times. After remaining at the station for awhile she became quiet and was sent home.

Later she came back with her husband, who said that, while his wife had been complaining for several days, she was better yesterday, and when he came down town he had put his wife's clothes away and locked the door, but that she had got possession of the key in some way and followed him. He thought that with rest and quiet his wife would have no further trouble.

Latest Talk in Local Railroad Circles.

THE REDONDO BEACH ROAD.

The Southern Pacific Said to be After it – Redondo, it is Claimed, is Cutting Into San Pedro-Notes.

It is generally believed among local railroad men at present that there is some kind of a deal on between the Southern Pacific people and the Redondo Beach Company. A short time ago the Southern Pacific Company found that Redondo was drawing business from San Pedro harbor. They saw that something must be done, and the old fake of cutting rates was begun, and it will be remembered that the war was quite lively for a few weeks, but it came to a sudden ending and the public was never enlighte ned as to how matters were settled. The talk about the purchase of Redondo by the Southern Pacific during the past few days has brought the story and the quarrel was more serious than anyone believed at the time.

As it is now told, the Ainsworths jumped at the prospects for a tussle with Mr. Huntington, and when his company began to cut rates, Capt. Ainsworth informed them that was just what he wanted. He informed them that he knew much more about ships than railroads and would fight on that line as long as he could bat an eye. He gold the Southern Pacific people that he would put on a dozen steam-eye. He gold the Southern Pacific people that he would put on a dozen steamers if necessary and would take every pound of freight away from San Pedro.

The Southern Pacific people did not like the looks of things and drew out of the fight. Since then they have been looking steadily at San Pedro, but the latest developments show that they have not been asleep. It has always been their policy to buy up short lines as soon as they worked up a pretty good business and cut into their trade, and it is generally believed that they are now negotiating for the Redondo Beach property. Up to a few weeks ago they believed that they could hold Redondo down by building a wharf at Santa Monica, but competent engineers state that a wharf will have to be built out beyond the bar, which is at least three-fourths of a mile from the beach, and this would take it out so far that it would be almost useless. This is said to be the reason why work on the wharf stopped so suddenly.

Mr. Hughes of the Redondo Beach Company was seen by a Times man yesterday, but he has heard nothing.

"The wharf at Redondo Beach," said he, "is paying big, and the road is doing very well, but we do not expect to make the hotel pay for several years, although we have entered into an agreement with the Raymond-Whitcomb people whereby we will an agreement with the Raymond-Whitcomb people whereby we will get all of the Raymond guests after they have seen enough of Pasadena. Of course our company will sell if they are offered a good price, but it is a mistake to think that we have a white elephant on our hands."

On the other hand, there are others who state that the Ainsworths are anxious to get rid of their interests, and as the Southern Pacific people have been auxious for some time to get a line from the sea to Wilson's Peak, the chances are that a trade will be made soon.

FRUIT BUSINESS.
Assistant Freight and Passenger Agent Crawley, of the Southern Pacific, is of the opinion that Los Angeles is in a better condition now ever.

"Our fruit shipments east during the past two months," said he, "will bring thousands of people to the coast this winter. The Eastern people now know what we can do out here. In the past they looked on us as the champion know what we can do out here. In the past they looked on us as the champion liars of the world when we talked about our fine fruits, but they have seen for the first time this summer what we can do, and they are perfectly wild. Our agents back East are carried away with the prospects for passenger business this winter. They write us that the fruit shipments this summer have done more to advertise Southern California than all the pamphlets, traveling exhibits and lectures that were ever turned loose on the Eastern people. Everybody is talking about Southern California, and all who can dispose of their places will be out can dispose of their places will be out here this winter and next spring."

A "Boss" Hackman Leaves for Parts Unknown.

DEBTS LEFT BEHIND HIM.

Drivers and Other Employed Losers to the Extent of $50 to $100 Each - Other Creditors.

Phil Dei, a well-known "boss" hacknan, has departed for parts unknown, leaving a large number of creditors behind him. When the City Cab and Carriage Company closed up its affairs some months ago, W. D. Childress, as the largest stockholder, paid up all accounts and took possession of the property, consisting of horses and carriages, and leased them to Dei, on very liberal terms. Dei was something of a "rustler" in his line, and as he had a good stand, and was well known it was thought that he was Dei, however, soon began to run be hind. He would pay part of a bill and ask to have the balance held over, but as he was of rather pleasing address, he had no trouble in getting credit. He had some ten or eleven drivers in his employ, and in the course of time, succeeded in owing them all, the sums ranging from $50 to $125.

On Saturday last Del complained of feeling badly and told his foreman that he intended to go down to the beach he intended to go down to the beach and remain over Sunday, but that he would be back on Monday and have the money to pay off all his help by the 10th. Monday morning he failed to show up, but the foreman received a letter from Dei saying that he had to go to San Francisco, but would return in time to meet his obligations.

The men continued to work, expecting Dei would keep his promise, but Wednesday evening when each of the drivers received an envelope containing a lot of old bills, they realized that they had been taken in and done up, and if Dei could have been got hold of at the time he would probably have been pretty roughly handled.

Mr. Childress was out of the city yesterday and no one at the bank could give any information in regard to Dei's indebtedness, if any, in that quarter.

One of the drivers was seen, however, and he was not at all backward in talkine. He said that Dei had beat everybody he could, including his help, his feed bills, horse shoers, carriage repairers, who all suffered more or less. In regard to the bills which he had sent the drivers, they were "old soldiers" which it was impossible to collect, not being worth 10 cents on the dollar, all off the good accounts having been collected by Dei on the first of the month. He said that the loss would fall very heavy on the men, many of whom had families, and as they had the month. He said that the loss would fall very heavy on the men, many of whom had families, and as they had been working for some time and barely getting enough for actual living expenses, they had nothing in reserve.

When asked if there was any possibility of Dei returning, the man said he was afraid not, as the house where he had been living was for rent, and it was probable that his family had joined him.

The men all say that Dei must have Joined him.

The men all say that Dei must have carried away two or three thousand dollars, as the backs made money, and as he did not pay Childress or any one else, there was no reason why he should not be well provided with coin. STRUCK THE PASTOR.

He said the woman was very violent, and had struck him when he entered his study. The patrol he entered his study. The patrol wagon, with Detectives Auble and Bosqui, was at once sent to the church, where Miss Emma Hill, a dressmaker living with her sister at the corner of Fith and Olive streets, was found, in a wildly excited condition, and apparently insaue. Some of the friends of the unfortunate young woman, and her sister, were also at the church, and a gouple of physicians were also in attendance. The physicians were trying to quiet the lady, and, as her friends objected to having her sent to the station, saying that they could care for her, the officers, after waiting an hour or two, returned to the station, and after several hours' persuasion Miss Hill was finally got to her home.

As near as could be learned, Miss Hill has been somewhat deranged for some time. She and her sister spent some weeks at Catalina, and while on the island it was noticed that she was acting queerly. She returned about two weeks ago, and has since been sixty members present. The club consists of 240 members, mostly from among our young men, and they not only propose to lift the balance of the 5700, but intend to put several hundred in the treasury, so that they can entertain any and all visiting Republicans without going around with the hat. This is an example the older clubs might emulate, get in condition to do the common enemy up. Those who watch the campaign will hear of the County Republican Club, "and don't you forget it." ANOTHER VETO MESSAGE.

Councilman Bonsail Fires at the Mayor.

Los Angeles, Sept. 10, 1890. To the Honorable Council: GENTLE-MEN—In a message from the Mayor at a recent meeting of the Council, in which he returns unsigned the contract with J. D. Hooker for pipe on a portion of the Woolen Mill ditch, he took occasion to use the following lan-"By the terms of this contract it will cost the city $3614.25. It is only three years since a sheet iron pipe was laid by the city along the same route and now we are called upon to replace it with a new pipe." Is it a necessity? That is the question, and it is no argument to say that it should not be repaired because the pipe was laid several years ago. How does it affect the consumers of water out on and adjacent to Figueroa street, or in other portions of the city whether the tions of the city, whether the pipe was laid 10 years ago, three years ago, or three months ago, if the fact remains that months ago, if the fact remains that the city is compelled to keep up the supply of water? In order to do so it is necessary that a new pipe be placed in that portion of the system between the Second-street Park and Beaudry avenue. The system supplies the West Lake Park and other reservoirs. Also the woolen mill and the large area of country adjacent to the Figureroa-street ditch, and from which the city receives a revenue. I understand ueroa-street ditch, and from which the city receives a revenue. I understand the Woolen Mill Company have some claim to a permanent supply of water, but as to this I have not investigated fully. If it be the purpose to contest this right and to abandon a supply of water to the other districts named, then the necessity to repair is done away with. All admit that the city must do one or the other. If abandoned, it means the abandonment of the entire system, which includes also reservoir No. 4, in addition to the district named.

reservoir No. 4, in addition to the district named.

So far as the people of Second street are concerned, no doubt they would like to see it abandoned, for along their street, recently graded, and for which they paid out hard cash, runs a considerable stream of water, making it a bog and mire, and a mennee to life and property. One of the important branches of the sewer system, for which so much of the tax-payers money was recently voted, is laid under this running stream of water. A double-track cable car line is about to be laid upon this portion of the street, which can't well be done on account of the water. Add to these the fact that it will cost the city thousands of dollars to repair the street if the pipe is not fixed.

These facts I stated substantially not fixed.

These facts I stated substantially on the floor of the Council at the time the Mayor's veto message was read, and incidentally mentioned a fact which I thought might not be generally known, that the citizens out there paid $3500 nearly four years ago, so that the portion for which repairs were now asked should not be considered as having cost the city a dollar in the first place.

character of the original work, he might have vented his spleen upon a former Council, under whose administration the pipe was laid, instead of endeavoring to get a little cheap notoriety by throwing it upor the present administration, who only seek to make some necessary repairs. In that case, his inordinate desire to write a veto message would have been gratified.

I have no particular fondness in this direction, and regret being compelled to make this statement.

CHICAGO is supposed to be a great city for grain, but this must be a mistaken idea, as the assessors were only able to discover $9000 worth of grain in the home of "Old Hutch." There are plenty of rumors in the air. but no piles on the ground. Santa Monica is a favorite with Los Angeles people, and we hope to see work com menced on the wharf at once. The city by the sea already has the lead in Southern California as a resort. With the increased business which would follow the building of a wharf it would begin to put on metropolitan airs.

DIRTY POLITICAL WORK,

The meanest of all the dirty tricks performed in a campaign can be looked for now, in the scandalous attacks made upon reputable citizens by men who seek to destroy the chances of candidates who apply for nominations be-fore the Republican County Convention. Assassins of this kind, who stab in the back, and do not come face to face with the man who is thus libeled, should receive no manner of consideration from the voters who select, or the delegates who are about to be selected If a man has been dishonorable in any respect, it is due and proper that he should be exposed. Men have been cansidates for months before this community, and everybody knows their character and capacity. Charges of wrong-doing should have been brought up months ago, and not now on the eve of the election of limes, will not fall behind in the delegates. Aspirants who have been afraid to present their claims against strong competitors wait until the field is winnowed out, and some men concede defeat and drop out. And then they come forward and seek to make a late entry into the race, not by force of their own character, but by noral assassination of the candidates before the people. The Republicans should make it an assured fact that when such sneaking methods are adopted, the promoters of the lies and rumors is not fit to be entrusted with in office. A contest should be carried on in open and manly fashion—free from back-biting and venomous lies—and the candidate who conducts his canvass in the honorable way should be a thousand times preferred to one who attempts to elevate himself by secret and infamous attacks upon his oppo

CALIFORNIA FRUITS.

The almost unparalleled growth and prosperity of Southern California has awakened in the breasts of many people at the East a feeling of small minded jealousy which delights to vent inself in untruthful and malicious attacks upon this section. Misrepresentation and falsehood are the weapons which are used to stay the tide of immigration to the Golden State. The commonwealth of California they would make a very Nazareth among the States, out of which no good thing can proceed.

The growth and prosperity of this ection is sufficient to make us look with indifference upon the calumnies that assail us, were it not for the sake of those who would be glad to come hither and engage in agricultural and kindred pursuits, but who are deterred by these misrepresentations. Take such statements, for instance, as the following from the editorial columns of the New York Times. After speaking of the almost entire failure of the crop of the Eastern States, this intelligent and truth-loving writer

"In this melancholy-state of things the fruit dealers might naturally be expected to languish and prine with the fruit growers. They do not, for the reason that they have discovered during the past few seasons imitations of peaches and pears and other fruits of summer which they sell as fruit to the simple minded and even to those whose minds are not so simple, but who offer an imitation to nothing in the absence of the genuine article. The imitation is known in the trade as "California fruit." It must be said that in all external respects the imitation is uncommonly well got up. It not only looks like fruit, but in size and form and color it actually surpasses real fruit. This is also the cases with imitations made in wax for the decoration of tables and not meant to be eaten. The success is the more remarkable in the California imitation because this is understood to be actually grown and to be eaten and even praised by the untutored Californians. It is not only attractive to look at, but it cleverly imitates varieties so rare as to be almost unknown in our markets, such as apricots and nectarines. Except in odor and flavor the imitation leaves nothing to be desired. The only drawback to its perfection is that it is not fit to eat. It is entirely insipid, excepting only the plums, and these are so sour as to be inedible. It is surprising how an individual in an intelligent community, and among asking for an appropriation, to be a people who are given to travel, has the gall to publish such statements in a great metropolitan newspaper. California is not as far from New York as it was a quarter of a century ago, and there seems to be a sort of frenzy which moves people to put forth such assertions, even though they cannot hope to have them believed, now that California has been brought almost to the very threshold of the Atlantic States. The great and constantly increasing demand for our fruits gives the lie to all such allegations as those we have just quoted. People do not buy qualities which satisfy the taste. Yet it is a fact beyond dispute that ever fruits into the markets of the East, even when brought into competition with fruits from other States, the demand for them has grown steadily and has been limited only by our supplies. A little story of Eastern prejudice against California fruits may not be out of place here as illustrative of the productions by many of the good people of the East. Mr. Hunter of Santa Barbara has upon his ranch in the Montecito s large apple orchard. A gentleman from the East called country home, and in discussing the fruit interests of Southern California he admitted the excellence of our citrus fruits; "but," said he, "California can't grow apples. I've not found an apple fit to eat since I came into the State. It takes the intelligent discrimination shown our

East to grow an apple that's worthy of the name." "That's so," responded Mr. Hunter with apparent heartiness. "Let me bring you in some Eastern apples,"

Accordingly he went out, and soon returned with a dish of great rosy-any of her apple orchards:"

But this web of prejudice which is being so industriously spun by certain classes in the Atlantic States will speedily be swept away by the unan-swersble logic of results. The great swerable logic of results. orchards of Southern California bear no Dead Sea fruit. The perpetual sun shine of our summer skies and the rich ness of our soil will continue to produce fruit that the great markets of Eastern cities will only be too eager to handle, and the epicure in fruits will always be ready to purchase. peaches, our apples, our pears and grapes; our nectarines and apricots: our prunes and guavas and loguats; gustatory qualities the best in the world. Nature in Southern California has ne shams. She is built on a how to nurture the choicest sweets and the richest flavors, and the time is in every market of the civilized world. Misrepresentation cannot sustain itself long. We have ne fears that the products of our orchards will cease to be in demand even in the best fruit years of the Atlantic States. chards California gives the lie to these malic ious falsehoods in every carload of her orchard products that she sends across the continent, and these carloads of fruit will do more than a thousand written pages of denial, to refute these falsehoods which are hatched by jealousy to hinder the flow of immigration to this coast. California does not hesitate to place her summer and her winter fruits alike in competition with the orchards of the world.

AGAINST ADULTERANTS.

If the people of the United States must drink beer, they should get that beer pure. This is what the Turner Bill, now before Congress, aims to ac-

The need of some such legislation is shown by the fact that, out of fifty samples of beer recently submitted for chemical analysis in New York, forty four were found to be adulterated, and out of the six samples of pure beer four were samples of imported beer. The brewers prefer to use adulterants because their profits will be larger, the average rate of profit per barrel on adulterated beer being two and half dollars, while, when barley malt is used, the profit is reduced to a dollar, which certainly seems large enough. It is no wonder that the British want to get our breweries. Among the adulterants mentioned before the Congressional committee were carbonate of soda and sulphuric acid. Rice and corn are also used in place of malt. and are said to be productive of kidney and liver diseases.

The bill in question provides that every manufacturer of beer shall brand the ingredients of the compound on the barrel, and that every retailer shall post, in a conspicuous place, a sign informing the public to the ame effect. The purchaser can then decide for himself whether he wishes to drink pure beer or adulterated beer. The bill is in line with the growing sentiment that it is one of the duties of a government to see that citizens are not slowly poisoned by means of adulterated foods and drinks.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE .- Mr. Scanlan' programme was changed last night by the production of Shane-Na-Lawn, an Irish nelodrama in three acts, supposed to illustrate life in Ireland in 1790.

If the scenes, characters and events de-picted last night really represented life in Ireland at the period referred to, it must have been a very eccentric period, indeed, for the unexpected was always occurring for the unexpected was always occurring, and the impossible was changed into an every-day happening.

The piece, as a story, is not worth detailing, but it answers its real purpose very well, which is to give Mr. Scanian the opportunity of singing some of his popular sones, and or playing some of those love scenes in the peculiar fashion in which he excels, besides being the all-round hero who clears up all the tangle of the plot, exonerating the falsely-accused leading juvenile man and being the means of reconciling the family feuds that have given so much trouble in the first two acts.

The house was not so crowded in the lower portion last night, though still very well filled, but up stairs the audience was overflowing and the noise of the gallery gods was more than usually disturbing, which is saying a good deal.

The piece was received with rapturous applause, and evidently suited the taste of the people. It will be repeated tonight.

Redistricting Washington.
OLYMPIA (Wash.,) Sept. 11.—The Reapportionment Bill passed by the special session of the Legislature, which became law this morning by the signature of Gov. Ferry, is based on the new census of the State, giving it 349,000 population. The Legislature was in session eight working days and adjourned this morning. The State is redistricted to 34 Senator and 78 Percentage of the State is redistricted to 34 Senator and 78 Representative Districts, no county, however small, being without representation. The former Senate num, bered 55 members, and the House 70 members. The bill passed with but eight dissenting votes in both Houses.

The Senate Programme Arranged for the Rest of the Session.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—[By the Asciated Press.] The Republican Senatorial caucus to decide on the order of business, today concluded to limit the programme for the remainder of the session to the following bills, to be considered in the order named, after the report of the conference committee on the Land Grant Forfeiture Bill shall be disposed of. The Anti-lottery Mail Bill, the bills to repeal the timber culture act, to establish private land claims courts, for the relief of the Supreme Courts, for the adjustment of the claims of laborers, etc., under the eight-hour law, making eight hours a day's work, etc.; to transfer the revenue day's work, etc.; to transfer the revenue marine service to the Navy Department, Paddock Pure Food Bill, the bill for the settlement of claims arising from Indian depredations, the Torrey Bankruptoy Bill, the bill to place telegraph companies under the operation of the inteurstate commerce law, District of Columbia bills.

The question of adjournment was discussed only incidentally. Outside of the caucus the opinion was freely expressed that after the Tariff Bill is disposed of a quorum could be held for only a short time.

A Quiet Day at Cresson Springs Owing to the inclement weather to day, the President and party remained indoors. Tonight an excursion party, which had come up from Philadelphia, was so anxious to see the President that he and his family visited the hotel parlor while the usual evening dance was in progress. Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. McKee have practically recovered from their illness.

The only official business transacted by the President today was the designation of Chief Clerk Edwin C. Fowler to act as First Assistant Postmaster-General for the period of 10 days, unless a successor to Clarkson is appointed.

RAILWAY FORFEITURE BILL IN THE SENATE.

Morgan Calls it a Log-rolling Scheme to Cinch the Small Roads-No Quorum in

By Telegraph to The Times.
WASHINGTON (D. C.,) Sept. 11,—[By the Associated Press.] Senate. resolution offered yesterday by Mr Morgan calling on the Secretary Interior for information as to lands of the Northern Pacific Railroad and other companies whose roads were not completed within the period fixed by the granting act, was agreed to.

The conference report on the Railroad Land Forfeiture Bill was taken up. The main proposition is contained in the first section, forfeiting to the United States all lands, heretofore granted any State or corporation to aid the construction of a railroad opposite to any portion of any such railroad not now completed and in operation, for the construction or benefit of which the construction or benefit of which such lands were granted; and all such lands are declared a part of the public domain; provided, that this act shall not be construed as forfeiting the right-of-way or station grounds of any railroad company heretofore granted.

Mr. Morgan opposed the report as a logrolling scheme, gotten up for the benefit of all land grant roads. While the first section professed to be a forfeiture, all other sections related to separate railroads and exempted them from the operation of the forfeiture section, or else secured them certain pecuniary advantages. The most that pecuniary advantages. The most that could be said of the bill was that a few small railroads that had not got friends enough in the two Houses were to be crucified for the sake of glossing over and varnishing the false pretense of a general forfeiture. After speaking for four hours and over Mr. Morgan yielded for a motion to adjourn.

Other Political Happenings-Republican Convention in Montana-Nevada Democrats Put up a Full Ticket.

By Telegraph to The Times.

JACKSON (Miss.,) Sept. 11.—[By the Associated Press.] Judge Calh un, president of the Constitutional Convention, spoke at great length today in support of the Campbell plan, the scheme of which is to divide the State into thirteen gerrymandered election districts to be controlled by whites. He said even the Presidency of the United States was a matter of insignificance compared with local self-government. He did not propose to mince matters, but if asked by anybody if it was the purpose of the convention to restrict negro suffrage, he would frankly answer: "Yes, that's what we're here for."

He further said the flat had gone forth that fraud, force and intimidation must cease, and if the convention failed to insure white supremacy by peaceful methods, he would, in case a negro was hereafter killed in a politi-cal riot, regard himself and every member of the convention as an acce sory to the murder.

WYOMING NOTES.

Her First Election as a State—Republicans Probably Win

CHEYENNE (Wyo.,) Sept. 11.—[By the Associated Press.] The first State election in Wyoming came off today. The utmost enthusiasm was shown, but it is doubtful if the vote will be very large. The Australian ballot syswas introduced for the first time with the registration system. Until within a few days it was understood that the law contained a clause to the effect that when through absence or illness anybody failed to register they would be permitted to swear their votes in on election day. Al-though a clause to this effect passed both houses of the last Legislature and though a clause to this effect passed both houses of the last Legislature and appears in both journals, for some unaccountable reason it fails to appear in the enrolled copy of the law or in the trinted copy. This omission disfranchises a very large number of voters.

In 1888 the total vote cast was 18,000, Carey (Rep.) for Delegate in Congress receiving a majority of 2942.

At this hour, 10-p. m. it is very difficult to tell much about the result. Some of the precincts are over 150 miles from the county seats and comparatively little can be heard from them. The Republicans claim the State by 1500 while the Democrats claim it by from 800 to 1500. This is on the Governorship.

DENVER, Sept. 12.—A special from Cheyenne says: Returns from five precincts of Laramie county are received. These precincts give Baxter, (Dem.) a majority of 19. In 1888 they gave Carey a majority of 8.

Grain Goes up and Rallway Stocks Go Down.

New York, Sept. 11.—[By the Associated Press.] All speculative markets today were excited and uneasy and the fluctuations were more violent than for many years. In the grain market the fluctuations were wild and prices went up with a rush. Brokers vere all amazed at the character of the crop report, it being most unfavorable, taking all the crop together, ever able, taking all the crop together, ever issued. Holders of stock were staggered at the estimates of the crops. The idea prevails that such a falling off in the yield will have a disastrous effect on the net earnings of railroads. The crop report was soon lost sight of, however, in the alarm caused by several of the most conservative houses calling in their loans on stock collaterais. The rate for call loans at once advanced to a premium of t of 1 per cent in addition to legal interest and on some of the fancy stocks to 1 per cent. in addition to legal interest and on some of the fancy stocks no loans could be obtained at any figure. This forced renewed attempts to liquidate and a decline followed. Everything on the list suffered, the losses ranging from 1 to 6½ per cent. and for a time the market was demoralized.

SOUTHAMPTON STRIKERS.

No Further Trouble—The Men to Return to Work.

SOUTHAMPTON, Sept. 11.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] Quiet once more prevails. At a conference of strikers this afternoon it was decided to return to work on the concession offered a fortnight ago. One of the leaders said the fact that the strike had been precipitated without the authority of the London executive precluded hope of success. The decision to resume work was flercely opposed by a minority and may be upset tomorrow. The concession, if accepted, means an advance of a penny an hour. Troops are still in attendance, but no trouble is anticipated.

Sherman was on the platform. Mr. Depew made a speech. He thanked the club for its cordial recep-tion on his return from abroad, and of all great Americans known on the other side, not even excepting Gen. Grant, none are so well known as James G. Blaine and William McKinley. They seem to regard McKinley as a man who has been studying up economic subjects and invented a new scheme by which to close up the factories of Europe and starve people into submission to the American Government. They piled me with questions as to McKinley and tried to get an expression as to the nature of the man and what he is going to do with all the people abroad. I replied that my metion of McKinley was that possibly he had an idea of inducing them to emigrate with all their factories and workmen to the great American country, and thus help give a greater consuming power to agricultural products. Inasmuch as some of the great governments abroad had taken a notion that they did not want to be on familiar terms with the American hog, the best they could do was to increase the consuming capacity of the American hog at home.

Railroad officials here say an extra freight collided with a regular freight train owing to a misplaced switch, and a few cars left the switch, and a few cars left the track. It has been learned from other sources, however, that the wreck is very disastrous; two engines, ten cars and a caboose being piled up so as to cover the passenger tracks as well as the freight tracks. No one was killed. A brakeman had both legs crushed and is not expected to live. No one else was hurt.

There is good authority for the statement that the British government is preparing a local government bill for Ireland. One feature of the measure is the creation of county councils; another is the delegation of power to deal with railways and similar enterprises. It is possible that the scheme will include the abolition of the office of Viceros. Viceroy.

netics Not Nearly as Beneficial for the Complexion as Hot Baths-Valuable Suggestions About Water and Its Use in Bathing-Use of Powder.

The subject of complexions is of peren-nial interest to the feminine heart, though most advice about complexions is very theoretical and seems chiefly based on the theoretical and seems chiefly based on the notion that the more disagreeable a thing is the better it is. A well known society-girl once lived a year on graham mush, and practically nothing else, except when she went to dinner parties. She had a poor complexion when she began, and she had a poor one when she quit. Of course, however, that did not break her faith in mush, and because she was so careful of her skin she still went on refusing to dust her face with the little touch of powder that would with the little touch of powder that would have relieved its greasiness. It is always women with skins like sacking that are the most particular about preserving them from powder. Makeup is much worse than injurious—it is vulgar; it is low form. But here as in a word many cases the size But here, as in a good many cases, the sin is in being found out. If a woman can help herself artificially so that you can't see that she is made up, why you should be grateful for her good looks, that is all.

How To Use POWDER.

There is only one way to put on powder and that is to put on cold cream first, wipe that off with a dry cloth and then put on the powder. It will do all powder can asfely be expected to do—it will give a soft, youthful bloom to the skin and shade defects. The most touchingly naive thing in the world is the way numbers of women paint themselves with liquids that turn a delicate violet tint and then come forth into the light of day with a full confidence that people will believe that God made them that color. Violet is fashionable, but not on the nose. Two sovereign laws can be laid down about make up; it should be deceptive (and that means that there must be laid down about make up; it should be deceptive (and that means that there must be but little of it) and it must all be washed off at night. Theoretically, of course, it is very bad to clog up the pores of the skin with anything, but, as a matter of fact, scores of women who make up keep their nice skins much longer than farmers' wives. Look at actresses! There is not another class in the world that can furnish such a number of such young looking women because of the country of the country of the country of the class in the world that can furnish such a number of such young looking women benumber of such young looking women be-tween 40 and 50 as Patti, Bernhardt, Lotta, Kate Claxton, Ellen Terry and Sara

How do they do it? It is not stage make ap that has kept all these women good looking. No, indeed. They neutralize the makeup and the late hours and the bad air of the stage chiefly by one thing—that is keeping clean. Undoubtedly they owe a great deal, too, to the introduction of French cosmetics as well as to Turkish baths. If you want to be safe on cosmetics either get things from somebody who makes them or one whom you can personally trust. There may be some tricking and wirepulling about them sometimes, but they still offer a thousand times better chance of purity and wholesomeness than things made in this too, too interly free country. utterly free country.

THE TURKISH BATH RECOMMENDED. But the great source of good complexions the Turkish bath. Look at the class of is the Turkish bath. Look at the class of club men who indulge in such luxuries. You can pick them out anywhere in a crowd by the freshness of their skins. After the club men come the actresses and then the society women. Within the last half dozen years there has been a change again and a marked falling off in the attenuage of maniousble women at the well known bathing establishments. What does that mean? Exactly this, that luxurious establishments are now so luxurious noestablishments are now so luxurious no-where as in their bathing arrangements, and the fashionable woman takes her Turk-ish—or more frequently her Russian—bath at home. There has been a great awaken-ing on the whole subject of physical cul-

Ing on the whole subject of physical culture, and the effect is apparent. Girls no longer lose their complexions before they pass out of their teens. Despite the disadvantages of our climate there are a number of women in Chicago of mature years who would compare well in point of freshness with English women of the same age.

The things necessary to cleanliness are, first, heat sufficient to induce perspiration, hot water, soap and plenty of rubbing with a brush. All properly fitted up modern bathhouses have a steam attachment. In the finer houses they have a hot room connected with them. Baths are administered by the lady's maid. The Turkish or the Russian bath (the latter is with the use of steam) is not taken oftener than once a of steam) is not taken oftener than once a week. Often once in two weeks is better, but a very thorough bathing and rubbing is administered, of course, every day. Everybody can't have a Pompelan bathom nor an accomplished maid nor a per found has accomplished mad nor a per-fumed bag containing the most exquisite preparation of soap to use as a wash rag— his is the latest fashionable trick—but everybody can have a Turkish bath brush, and that is more important than either.

MASSAGE AS A BEAUTIFIER. MASSAGE AS A BEAUTIFIER.
The face itself is generally greatly helped by a very gentle brushing, using at the same time some of the French soaps attested to by the Academy of Medicine.
There are some strong and trying soaps popular now which it needs the epidermis of a coal heaver to use with impunity.
It is marvelous how people believe in ad-It is marvelous how people believe in advertisements. Don't trust them when it comes to the soap you use on your face— and don't let your face go without soap either. It ought to be washed with it at least several times a week. There are skins so thin—not necessarily good—that they cannot stand brushing, but don't pre-sume yours is one of that kind till you know it. The chances are that it will help it 50 per cent. All those ugly roughnesses you sometimes see on girls' arms and shoulders, when they are indiscreet enough to show them under such circumstances will almost invariably disappear by brush ing. The amount and force of it should be regulated by each person according to her own experience.

The fashionable woman appreciates more and more the value of massage in renewing and resting her youth. A woman in the full swim taxes herself very severely. Such women are always massaged after coming home from any festivity.

coming home from any festivity.

One thing in the massaging way you can do for yourself, and it is extremely valuable. You can massage your face. Some knowledge of the usual massage movement is a help. The point is to very gently move all the flesh on the bones, and gently knead every particle of it. When you are through you feel as if you had a new face, and the effort in keeping the lines and fallings in from being settled and fixed is treat. You should rub your face outward great. You should rub your face outward from the nose and upward from the chin in washing, in oiling, in touching it at all, because the tendency of the flesh is to fall in and downward. Two minutes a day will suffice.—Chicago Herald. You should rub your face outward

Not Much of an Argument.

An English etymologist deduces an argument for the superiority of woman from the fact that while the word "him" can the fact that while the word "him" can only be used as a substantive, the corresponding word "her" can be used also as a qualifying pronoun. You can say, for instance, "I love her because of her eyes," but you can't say, "I respect him because of him biceps," Well, all we have to say is that the inventor of such a fantastic theory as that would be quite capable of writing an essay on the moral character of a molecule.—New York Tribune.

Making the Deaf to Hear.

As a rule mutes are born deaf, but sometimes severe diseases in infancy destroy completely the sense of hearing. Under these circumstances even a partial recovery of hearing is extremely rare. A girl who is now 10 completely lost her hearing when 8 years old through an attack of cerebro spinal meningitis, and in consequence was brought up as a deaf mute, attending until recently the school of the deaf and dumb asylum at Fordham. Coming to New York she was placed under treatment with slight hopes of benefit. Her physicians ascertained that the delicate, nervous apparatus of the internal ear was still sound, else the case would have been hopeless. Under appropriate treatment, combined with dilation of the middle ear by inflation, improvement was soon noticed. In a Making the Deaf to Hear

In a month the young woman heard the tick-ing of a watch held twenty inches away and conversation at a distance of ten feet, and then she began learning how to talk. A month later she could hear a watch at a distance of five feet and conversation across the room.—New York Letter.

Dr. Jeter, when he became worked up in preaching and was the most eloquent, had a habit of putting a whine into his voice which as nearly resembled tears in the voice as possible. Once when the tears were esas possible. Once when the tears were especially strong during a sermon the good old doctor noticed a lady weeping in the sudience. As soon as the services were over he hastened to overtake the lady and ask her what part of the divine word touched her to tears.

"Twasn't that," said the lady.
"Have you had some deep affliction in losing family friends?" said the doctor.

"Twasn't that neither," said the lady.
"Well, what was it?" asked the doctor.

"Well, doctor, we had a mule, and it was a good one, too. We liked that mule, and he died; and while you were preaching your voice sounded so much like that mule's that I couldn't help crying."—

Inhaling Hot Air.

It has been contended that the tubercle bacillus is killed by a temperature of 41 degs. C. (106 degs. F.), and that breathing heated air should arrest consumption. Dr. Ernst Sehrwald, of Jena, has made some interesting experiments on dogs to test this theory. He concludes that the air breathed may be gradually raised from 50 degs. Boyle Heights Mother Speaks Boyle Heights (City,) Sept. 11.-[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] [To the Editor of The Times.] Apro-pos of the school question new before the public (through the medium of pos of the school question now before the public (through the medium of your columns) it may not be out of place to state a little "fact" concerning the alleged increased school facilities (?) of the Boyle Heights schools, which has come to my knowledge directly from one whom I believe knows whereof he speaks.

The people of Boyle Heights have been eagerly looking forward to wholeday sessions as an improvement upon the half-day sessions that have heretofore prevailed; and we have been given to understand by those in authority that we are to have them now. How to accomplish this desirable result with four-room buildings has been a mystery that could apparently be solved only in this wise, four of the eight grades might be taught in one building—say the Breed-street school; ditto with the Macy-street and the Cornwall-street schools. This, of course, would be very unsatisfactory, as children of the same family in different grades would therefore have to attend different schools so, that the younger children of the family would lose the adthe same family in different grades would therefore have to attend different schools so, that the younger children of the family would lose the advantage of the protection furnished by the elder children where they attend the same school; while many would also have to go long distances. And yet, inconvenient and impractical as the measure would be, how could it be accomplished otherwise? The problem has afforded us much speculation, and the foregoing has been our only rational solution.

I now understand from a source which I do not hesitate to believe is authentic, that instead of solving the problem as before stated, it is to be done in this way:

The grades are, as above mentioned, eight in number and composed of two divisions each, or sixteen classes in all, in a full school. Thus far one teacher has had two of these divisions or classes—that is to say, one grade—for a half-day session.

Now listen to what I am informed is classes—that is to say, one grade—for a half-day session.

Now listen to what I am informed is the improved plan—and let Boyle Heights listen well, to the end that it may be informed whether or not it is to receive the best benefits possible from California's beneficent school system.

There are to be four teachers to each

There are to be four teachers to each four-room school, that is, two grades of two divisions each, or four different classes for each teacher and for each room. Think of this condition as existing in eity schools that are supposed to be graded.

Talk about country schools, it would be a libel on the poorest of the country schools of Northern California to say that they are so poor and inadequate as this proposed system will be.

When the Chamber of Commerce advertises the resources and advantages of Southern California, let it be well guarded in its utterances, and say.

well guarded in its utterances, and say nothing about the public school facilities of Los Angeles.

See what will be the condition of the lower grades under this proposed plan:

Four classes of little ones—little Four classes of little ones—little minds who have not yet sufficient reason or self-dependence to work by themselves for more than half a minute at a time—who need to be led and accompanied by the teacher continually through the initiatory years, (to obtain the best or even good results,) will be left for three-fourths of their time to their own resources, and to such casual supervision as the perplexed and over-burdened teacher hay be able to snatch from the class filmed diately in hand.

As for the upper grades, they will have less than half enough time for purposes of recitation, not to mention the necessary instruction to which they are entitled and which the theory of our public school system, when inaugurated in a city like this, presupposes that they should and will have.

If this proposed scheme of furnishing Berley Heights with additional

If this proposed soheme of furnishing Boyle Heights with additional school facilities is the kind of progression which is in contemplation of adoption, let our schools rather remain as they have been, that we may reap the greater benefit of half-day sessions, with one grade of two divisions for each

With a school system that, in theory and in practice, has been demonstrated in the large cities of the North to be the most perfect yet devised, ready to her hand, why may not Los Angeles have as good schools as Oakland or San Francisco, or any other city of the North? That her schools, in point of excel-lence, fall far below theirs, must be ad-lence, fall far below theirs, must be admitted by every candid person who knows anything of the facts or methods which obtain in each. What is the reason of this? This is a question which may well be pondered by every thoughtful parent, yes, by every public-spirited citizen, who has the welfare of our city at heart. And it is respectfully suggested for the consideration of the gentlemen who hold conventions and elect men to office, in the name of and elect men to office, in the name of political parties.

Epidemic of Fleas.

An epidemic of fleas has struck Reading, Pa., and for the past week the lives of citizens have been made miserable by the little pests. The situation is particularly aggravated in the suburbs of the city, where the open tots—and—outlying fields infested by weeds are thought to furnish conditions especially favorable to the increase of insects. There is scarcely a household whether pretentious or lowly household whether pretentious or lowly into which the fleas have not penetrated. The druggists of the city report a tremendous increase in their sales of flea and insect powders, and housekeepers are devoting themselves assiduously to the extermination of the insects.

NEWS CONCERNING SCHOOLS.

Scholars Undergoing Examination A Batch of Brevities and Personals-Notes and Comment.

Entrance examinations were held resterday in the Wilson school building for the High School and eighthyear pupils. Seven applicants went through the ordeal. Whether they have passed or not will not be known to the public until the reports have been made out and passed upon by the proper authorities.

This morning at 9 o'clock the examinations will be continued for those wishing to enter the seventh year and

The addition of the eighth-year course to the studies heretofore pursued in the Garfield and Washington sued in the Garneld and Washington schools, thereby making them full grammar schools, will prove of much convenience to the scholars residing in these portions of town.

Most of the teachers, as well as the scholars, are in town preparing for their opening, which takes place on Monday.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Pasadena should have had a repre sentative at the World's Fair State Convention, which convened in San Francisco yesterday.

The approach of the school season. which begins next Monday, together with the cooler weather, has caused a big exodus from the sea shore. The larger crowds which appear on the streets now, and the tanned skins and sun-burned faces of the numerous promenaders bear evidence that the summer season has really drawn to a close. The bright faces of the many who are just back from their summer's outing exhibit every variety of Cld King Sol's handiwork in the art of tanning. From the beautiful rich brown of some of the women to the bleed of some of the women, to the blood-beet red and hideous yellow of the men, every shade and hue is repre-sented. The summer season has closed and the town is awakening from its hot weather sleep. We are entering upon the delightful fall and winter months, and, we trust, a new era of prosperity.

The poor patronage that was bestowed on the recent encounter between a local pugilist and a Los Antween a local pugilist and a Los Angeles slugger, leads to the supposition that the popularity of the prize fighter is on the wane. Not altogether on the wane as an exchange puts it with the "rapidly retreating obb of a tidal wave, nor, on the other hand, the messenger-boy-like-departure of a geologic period, but with the solid, steady march that ever indicates a purpose to get there." Yet notwithstanding the fact that the European nations are all armed to the teeth with all the modern improvements in life destruction, while armed to the teeth with all the modern improvements in life destruction, while this country can hardly be said to be neglecting similar preparations, the sword remotely promises to be forged into the plowshare. We are at the commencement of the end. John L. Sullivan's adoption of the stage as profession started the ball rolling, and while this act will not serve to immediately stop work upon a single monitor now under construction or halt one steam hammer as it helps to thump a gun into shape, it is yet the harbinger of a new era which is felt in this far-distant town where the once popular prize fight is now a thing from which honor and patronage have both departed. Indeed, one of the late combatants has long been addicted to histronic pursuits, and was only prevented from going on the road last spring in the capacity of advance agent by a series of unavoidable mishaps.

It Costs Money to Die in France.

After your demise your late residence will be draped with black inside and out by the authorities, and your relatives will be permitted to have no control of anything save only a choice as to whether your body shall be embalmed or not. For this service $500 is charged. In this country the cost of embalming is from $25 to $50, but over there they pretend to understand processes approaching in effectiveness those of the ancient Egyptians. No private individual in France is permitted to engage in the undertaking business. It is the same way in Italy, where burial is also a government monopoly, and in Russia all the embalming is done by the government.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. A. L. Butterworth and Richardson of the Star of Bethlehem, Frank Hearn and John Reynolds of the Knights of Pythas, and J. Robins and Ed. Dearth of ias, and J. Robins and Ed. Dearth of the I. O. O. F. The following brother undertakers were present from Los Angeles: Messrs. Sutch, Sharp, Nich-olson, Chase, Cussins and Sampson. There were several beautiful floral of-ferings. A quartette composed of Mrs. Clapp, Miss White, Prof. Kyle and Mr. Thayer, sang several appropriate selec-tions. The services were conducted by Rev. A. W. Bunker.

SEMI-ANNUAL MEETING.

Of the Pasadena Lawn Tennis Club.
The regular semi-annual meeting of he Pasadena Tennis Club was held Wednesday evening at Miss Hurlbut's home on Orange Grove avenue.

The following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing six months: President, A. Campbell-Johnston; secretary, Chas. A. Scharff; treas-urer, H. H. Suesserott. The members f the executive committee are: R. H. Lindsay, P. A. V. Van Doren, H. H. Suesserott, C. H. Scharff, H. H. Rose, A. Campbell-Johnston and Robt. Vandevoort.

Several changes were made in the by-laws, the most important being the assessment of honorary members 75 cents per quarter, which, however, does not allow them the privileges of the court. Formerly the honorary members were not assessed. It was also decided to admit associate members for a period of six months unough bers for a period of six months upon the payment of an initiation fee of $5.00. The associate members will be exempt from payment of dues.

The time passed pleasantly in a social manner and elaborate refreshments were enjoyed.

The Mass Meeting Postponed. On account of the big Republican mass meeting in Los Angeles tomorrow evening the Markham Club of Pasadena has decided to postpone its resadena has decided to postpone its celebration until a more distant date. The plan meets with general approval as an opportunity will thus be afforded our citizens to visit Los Angeles and hear some of the most eloquent speakers in the State. The club will likely go down in a body. The Markham Guards will also possibly attend.

The Pioneers.

Judge Eaton, who is working up a reunion of California pioneers to be held in Chicago in 1892, says there is every prospect of the undertaking proving a success. He has placed him self in communication with the president of the Chicago Pioneer Society and with other similar organizations elsewhere, all of whom express great enthusiasm in carrying out the happy project.

Benator Davis, of Minnesota, was for-merly an expert telegraph operator and was for a long time employed in the office at Waukesha. Senator Davis was one of the first four men in the country to read telegraphy by sound.

BUSINESS.

Money, Stocks and Bonds. By Telegraph to The Times. New York, Sept. 11.—Money, on call

Prime mercantile paper, 7@9.
Sterling exchange, active; 60-day bills,

4.81%; demand, 4.84%.

New York, Sept. 11.—The stock market today was unusually active, but increased business was obtained at the expense of Mrs. Peabody's Remains Laid to Rest.

The bears were again prominent in getting prices down, and made a special point of the poor showing of the Government crop the Government Crop the poor showing of the Government Crop the poor showing of the Government Crop the poor showing of the Government Crop the poor showing Crop the Government Crop the Governmen report, and granger stocks suffered. The money market was undoubtedly a great dis-appointment, the trade on call having gotten up to ¼ per cent per diem and interest. Notwithstanding all efforts of the Treasury Department for its relief, the liquidation became general, and the presentation of bonds at the sub-treasury for prepayment of interest was very large, the interest being paid upon $25,000,000 registered bonds, while $32,000 was paid on coupons and $241,000 41/2 per cents were redeeme and $241,000 435 per cents were redeemed. This late-in-the-day gain restored something like confidence, but it failed to cause a raily of anything like the proportions of the previous decline. The market finally closed quiet and fairly steady, but at only a slight improvement over the lowest prices of the day. The most pronounced losses were in sugar refineries 5%. Chicago Gas 4% and silver certificates 1% per cent,

Government bends were heavy.

Counters Piled Up With Bargains-Fifteen Yards of Dress Goods for 75c-Call Early to Secure a Choice.

PEOPLE'S STORE Friday, Sept. 12, 1893. As is our usual custom, we make a spe-cialty today of remnants. Owing to the enormous run on a number of lines, the accumulation of remnants is greater than them, as it would take too much space to enumerate them all, but you will find our counters full of them and at such prices which you can not resist. We are also showing a number of new lines just re-ceived; amongst them you will find dis-played on our Dress Goods counter a magnificent line of checked and plaid cloths; these are the very latest and will become all the rage, and our prices on them are very attractive. We are showing in our window a handsome line of Dress Goods, which we are selling tifteen yards for 75c. which we are seiling litteen yards for 75c. At these prices it will not take long to sell out the entire lot, as it is not often such a bargain is to be had; so if you should desire to purchase any of them be sure to call in time.
